Leadership Transition at Veresen Midstream

Veresen Midstream announces that President and CEO, Don Althoff, will step down on August 31, 2019 with the conclusion of his fixed-term contract, and transition to a new role as Chair of the Board of Directors. Don has led the company to achieve strong profits, the trust of its customers and a successful joint venture with Pembina Pipeline Corporation.

Chris Rousch, Veresen Midstream's Vice President, Operations and Commercial, has been named President effective September 1. Chris was instrumental in the formation of Veresen Midstream and has been with the company since its inception in 2015.

"This is a natural transition that fits with the vision created by the Management team," says Althoff. "With the support of the owners, I'm pleased to continue to play a role in the company while serving on the board of directors. We've got more good work ahead of us, and I'm eager to be part of it."

Rousch looks forward to what the future holds for Veresen Midstream.

"Don has laid an outstanding foundation for our company, and I'm pleased to continue to build on what we've established," says Rousch.
